

Parts of the Brain

Frontal Lobes

Emotions, habits, being alert and conscious, understanding and interacting with our environment, planning, worrying, thinking

Parietal Lobes

Ability to pay attention to what we see, ability to figure out what we are touching or feeling, body awareness

Occipital Lobes

Involved in vision, understanding colors

Temporal Lobes

Hearing, assists with memory, speech center

Cerebellum

Helps with balance and motor coordination

Brainstem

Heart rate and rhythm, breathing, ability to be alert and/or asleep, swallowing, digestion, balance

For more free resources and information
outreach.ilabs.uw.edu